A DEMOCRATIC TRINITY.

It was reserved to an esteemed Democratic contemporary to draw comfort from the assassination of Garfield, and speculate upon the beneficial effects his dastardly taking off might have upon the future of its party. We believe this is the first publication, and Los Angeles has the honor of being the place wherein conclusions gratifying have been drawn from a national calamity. That we may not be charged with misrepresenting a neighbor, we quote his glorification over the prospects of his party. He sees success in the coming campaign, and feels assured that ordinary circumstances would give Democracy a victory, but the country's misfortunes will render assurance doubly sure. Hear him:

"The celebrated 'off-year' in national politics would alone be enough to make California reliably Democratic this Fall. But the 'off-year' just now is reinforced by the assassination of Garfield, the Sunday Law and the Veto, a trinity which, while not of hell, is politically most significant."

But our friend in this, as often before, counts without his host. It has been said that "curses, like chickens, come home to roost," and as true as it was that the assassination of Lincoln freed the hearts of the people to keep out of the Presidential chair any of the infernal crew who were a party to his taking off, so will the men of to-day who mourn the loss the country and Republican party sustained in the death of Garfield, come to the rescue of Republican principles in 1894. And when that day shall come, few will care to remember that they publicly opposed a law of the land, nor see a propriety in claiming a party advantage from a public calamity. We commend to our contemporary devotion to his trinity, which, if not of the country he alludes to, must certainly be of contiguous territory.

THE See says: "The late George F. Baker was accounted very wealthy, but it is said that his will embraces property of the value of about $50,000, most of which was the result of fortunate speculations in mining stocks."

HOW IT WAS RECEIVED.

A feeling of sorrow and indignation has uniformly characterized the reception of the news of the veto of the Chinese bill throughout the coast as indicated by the following:

OROVILLE.—The feeling is very bitter against President Arthur on account of the veto.

FRESNO.—The news of the President's veto is received with feelings of both disappointment and disgust. Chinatown has resounded with the explosion of firecrackers all the evening.

BAKERFIELD.—A deep feeling of indignation pervades the entire community regarding the veto of the Chinese bill by President Arthur.

MEMPHIS.—The news of the veto has created intense indignation here among all classes of citizens. Arthur and his advisers are denounced by men of both parties.

SALINAS.—The veto message, although partly expected, created an intense feeling of indignation here.

NAPA.—A feeling of general indignation prevails.

GRASS VALLEY.—The news was received with disgust and indignation by all citizens.

NEVADA.—Great indignation is felt at the veto of President Arthur. Tonight some Chinamen residing in the heart of the city built a bonfire in celebration of the veto.

SACRAMENTO.—The announcement was the signal for an expression of unanimous condemnation. People are indignant that the East will not learn what this coast suffers for want of favorable legislation on the Chinese question. The result is looked upon as a rusty nail in the President's political coffin.

SAN DIEGO.—The President's veto of the Chinese bill caused a feeling of profound indignation, mingled with deep sorrow. The Chinamen are holding high carnival. Crackers and bombs attest their joy.

STUTTER CREEK.—The feeling of indignation, irrespective of party, was universal. To-night, about half past eight, the brass band came through the principal street playing the Dead March in Saul, and at the same time an effigy of Arthur was swung between two of the principal buildings, amidst unearthly groans.

SANTA BARBARA.—When it was announced this morning that the President had vetoed the Chinese bill, the greatest interest and excitement were manifested.

SAN JOSE.—The news of the veto plunged our community into profound despondency. Men are asking what shall we do next to rid ourselves of the Chinese, and threats and curses are heard on every side.

SANTA CRUZ.—The United States flag was hung at half-mast, Union down, on the flagstaff on the plaza. This afternoon President Arthur was hung in effigy to the flagstaff, and to-night will be burned. A meeting of the President's action will be held; a band will play funeral marches, and ten-minute speeches will be made.

WACKONVILLE.—Soon after the news of the veto of the Chinese bill arrived here, Arthur was hung in effigy, and left hanging across the street until this evening, when he was burned. He was hung at the same place where Guitierrez was some months ago.

AUBURN.—Our citizens gave vent to varied expressions, according to the intensity of their feelings. One recommended a coat of tar and feathers for Arthur; others desired to hang and burn him in effigy. The universal feeling of our whole people is one of deep disappointment and regret that the bill failed to become a law.

WELCOME, KEARNEY!

An esteemed Democratic contemporary welcomes to the ranks of the Democracy the forces lately under the command of the W-o-r-k-i-n-g-man, Dennis Kearney, and has "no doubt that their claims to preferment will be thoroughly recognized." He even goes so far as to express a willingness to give Kearney's forces all the nominations "if their ambition reaches that far." Now this may be all right for the Democrats, but, bless us, what a come down for Kearney and his coadjutors to forget all the acts and aims of virtuous patriots, and fall in line again behind the active banners of Democracy—a party that has abused and insulted laboring men ever since it echoed the slander of an advocate of the murderous institution of slavery, in denouncing the mechanics of the north as the "mudsills of society."

That the alliance we intimate is the policy of some of the wire pullers of the Democracy there are many reasons to make us believe. In our contemporary we quote, the opposition to the nomination of General Stoneman for Governor is noticeable and decided. And why is this? The flimsy pretext that he is wanted on the Railroad Commission another term is given. But that is too thin, and more than half an insult to the able gentleman. It would be almost as bad as a noted crucifixion we read of where another friend of man suffered punishment between two men of far different reputation. The welcome to Kearney may explain the opposition to General Stoneman's nomination for Governor. The place may be wanted for Dennis. Who knows?

M. H. DeYoung and wife, who passed through this city the other day, were en route to Europe. They will stop a short time in New York and then cross the pond to remain a considerable length of time.

GOVERNOR TRITTE has offered a reward of five hundred dollars for the arrest and conviction of the murderers of M. R. Peat at Charleston, Arizona, on the evening of March 19th.

The origin of the school of the aesthetics is mentioned in the Bible, where it is written, in effect, that Be-lam smote his beast and made it to utter.

The Express on the Veto.

Ed. Times.—The Constitution of the United States, Article I, Section 7, paragraph 2, says, "Every bill which shall have passed the House of Representatives and the Senate, shall, before it become a law, be presented to the President of the United States; if he approve, he shall sign it, but if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to that House in which it shall have originated," etc. But the leading editorial of the Express of the 5th inst., headed "Arthur's Flimsy Reasons," concludes with this sentence:

"One English King has been brought to the block for a less heinous violation of the rights of the people, and a Court of Impeachment would find in the act of Arthur tenable grounds for convicting him of high crime and misdemeanor in the arbitrary and unconstitutional exercise of the presidential prerogative."

This sentence, displaying the usual Kearney ignorance of the constitution and disregard of law, deserves the severe reprobation of every loyal citizen. It is plain from the language of the constitution that a President may veto any bill whatever. "If he approve he shall sign it, but if not he shall return it," and a President can no more be impeached for vetoing a bill than a member of Congress can be indicted by a Los Angeles Grand Jury for voting for it. Where the people elect both their law makers and their executives, the continuance of freedom without anarchy depends on the cultivation of the law-abiding spirit. If the Express editorial has any influence, it tends to the inciting of treason and the making of traitors, and should be condemned by every true American patriot.

REPUBLICAN.

A Protest from the Germans.

EDITOR OF THE TIMES: The League of Freedom has published its determination to resist the law of this State. The Southern California Post especially made itself prominent in the present movement regarding the Sunday Law. It claims the German element is against the Sunday Law. In this the editor is greatly mistaken. There is a large number of German citizens in favor of the enforcement of this law, of which more than nine-tenths of that number do not intend to any church. They are law-abiding citizens and do not bring into contempt the Governor, Judges, and all the executive officers of our State. That paper, a week ago, abused our Chief of Police. It stated he was better fitted to work in his blacksmith shop than fill that office, because he was faithfully performing his duty. It also stated that the Chief of Police was indebted to German influence for his last election, and that he would be left out in the cold next time. It also ridiculed our Supreme Judge for deciding the law to be constitutional. No wonder that a number of our German friends are opposers of a Sunday law, with such a teacher and elevator of public morals.

A GERMAN CITIZEN.

Another Sad Home.

This community was much pained yesterday to learn that the wife of our worthy fellow-citizen, Dr. L. W. French, was in a dying condition. Dr. French was in a dying condition, and was supplemented by a report at 5 p. m., which proved to be too true, that she was dead. The intelligence was startling, as few outside of the most intimate acquaintances of the family had any information of her illness. She was in the prime of life, and was taken from her interesting family of three children when they most need a mother's care. The warmest sympathy of the doctor's many friends will be drawn out to him for his great affliction.

CALIFORNIA POLITICIANS ARE ALL RUNNING INTO THE LECTURE FEVER.

California politicians are all running into the lecture fever. Governor Perkins has been lecturing for various charities, paying his own expenses and buying from ten to twenty tickets. Hon. John F. Swift, a prominent candidate for Governor, follows by lecturing at the State University. Irving M. Scott, also a gubernatorial candidate, follows suit, and Hon. W. B. C. Brown, a Democratic candidate for the same office, not to be outdone by Republicans, enters the lists, lecturing at Sacramento last Tuesday evening on "The immortality of the soul demonstrated by reason of facts independent of Biblical precepts." The See says these side issues offend no one, and as the candidates can keep out of politics, and yet keep themselves before the people, their object is accomplished.

"Puck" has an excellent cartoon on the Rosecrans letter. It represents the tomb of Garfield, marked Fame, around which several hyenas, labeled with the names of newspapers which have assailed the dead President, are prowling and trying to tear open the new-made grave. At one side a number of other hyenas, each bearing the "306" medal, have been trying to pull down the monument, but a thunderbolt from Heaven has snapped their rope in two, and the whole gang is falling into the gulf of oblivion.

The cry has begun. Not content with telegraphing once that Santa Rosa had, at an insignificant local election, gone Democratic, it is again heralded this morning. The simple fact is that Santa Rosa is a Democratic stronghold and invariably goes that way at every election, and but for the state of the public mind, and to take advantage of every possible opportunity the matter of that little election would not have been noticed. It has not a whit more political significance than the old saw that "the Dutch have taken Holland."

Parties from Iowa will soon arrive from the Craig tract. About 300 acres have been spoken for by them.

Ray Noble has sold his ten acres on the Santa Anita road for $45 per acre. Messrs. Wood and Bundy are building houses on their land purchased of Mr. Palmatier.

The highest scores at the Hurlbut shoot were as follows: Watts, 41; Hurlbut, 39; 39. * Mr. Watts still wears the medal.

Complaints have been filed in two Sunday law cases. The parties have answered and the cases are set for Monday, the 10th, when it is expected our chief justice will immortalize himself.

Among the fruits that are with us being quite extensively planted is the lemon. Most any of our soil is adapted to the successful propagation of this "sine qua non" of every well equipped dining table, and a large crop is looked for, which will not only certainly lessen the demand, if it does not produce a like effect upon the price.

Mr. Swan sold his oranges this year at two cents apiece on the tree, while other prices have ranged from $1.50 to $3 per box, Sewall & Stevens purchasing the bulk of this year's crop.

A Lively Runaway.

Yesterday afternoon an exciting runaway took place on Main and Commercial streets. A horse and buggy belonging to Admiral Banning were hitched in front of Pierce's store, on Olive street. The horse slipped, the driver fell from his head and started off on a walk. A flying piece of paper gave him a scare, and he started off down Main street at a break-neck speed, followed by a man on horseback named Robert Duncan. He was unable to catch the horse, which took a turn down Commercial street, till it was just crossing the railroad track at the old depot, when he got his hand on its nose and shut off its wind. On turning from Main into Commercial street the right fore-wheel was smashed on the railroad cannons that stand on that corner for guard posts. No other damage was done to the buggy. The horse received only a slight scratch on his leg. The buggy had no occupants.

Petaluma Courier says: "The boys are making it very lively for the salmon that were foolish enough to stray up into the waters of Petaluma Creek. The boys go out on quito a lot with their spears on the shore, and on the following day John Matthews sent his boys to the entrance given to China boats."

A prominent physician of this city remarked that the Chinese habit of squirting water on clothes in ironing is very dangerous one and should be stopped. Ulcerated tonsils and throats are common among Chinese laundrymen, hence the water squirted is often impregnated with germs of disease, which are loosed into the clothes, and thus rendered universally into all classes of society. Either the squirting or the entrance given to China boats.

NEWALL ITEMS.

The Prospects—The Star Oil Company—History of the Pico Oil Springs.

NEWALL, April 5, 1882.
A splendid rain fell here on the 3d of this month, doing an immense amount of good, and if followed by favorable weather will insure a heavy crop of wheat in this valley.

The outlook for a heavy yield of honey is very fine and the bee men are happy.

The Star Oil Company and the Pacific Coast Oil Company are drilling and preparing to drill five new wells on and adjoining the Pico Oil claim. All of the wells that have been drilled in the vicinity of the celebrated Pico Oil Spring have been good producers, and the latter have been found in that territory. When any of the wells show indications of a decrease in the production they drill the well deeper, and invariably get an increased production.

The Pico Oil Spring was discovered in January, 1865, by Ramon Peria, a Mexican hunter. One day while hunting for deer he wounded a buck. He followed the trail and found it dead near the spring. The quality of the oil in the spring attracted his attention, being of a dark green color and very thick, so different from anything that he had ever seen, that he concluded that it must be valuable. So he notified a friend of his, Jesus Hernandez, and they located the oil claim.

The Pennsylvania Oil Company will commence drilling in a few days on the Pico Oil claim. The surface indications are very favorable, and the supposition is that oil will be found in abundance at no great depth. The Pennsylvania Oil Well is located about six miles from the Pico Oil Wells, in a southeasterly direction. It is to be hoped that this enterprise may prove successful, for it will open up a fine lot of territory. This oil, if you don't believe it, please come and see for yourself.

THE HULSE TRIAL.

The Jury Disagree and are Discharged.—The Second Day.

The case of the People against Thomas B. Hulse, charged with the murder of Fritz Reuter, came up yesterday before Judge Sepulveda, and was the second day of trial. The following witnesses were examined for the defense: H. H. White, Henry F. Gardner, Thomas W. Hill, Adolph Davis, George Chapman, Andrew B. Harris, Dr. J. A. Crane.

Pailler, E. A. Moeser, John Sommerer, T. B. Hulse (the defendant, in his own behalf), Dr. J. H. Lathrop and E. Huber.

The following were examined for the people in rebuttal: T. H. Hudson (recalled), Thomas A. Sherill (recalled) and Mrs. Mary A. Reuter.

The testimony was all in for both sides by noon. The afternoon was spent by the attorneys in argument, and the case went to the jury at 4 o'clock. At 7:30 p. m. they returned into Court and reported that it was impossible for them to agree, whereupon they were discharged by Judge Sepulveda.

This necessitates a new trial, with all the law's vexatious delays, and additional expense to the parties. The jury held several ballots, each resulting in a tie. Meanwhile Hulse goes back to jail.

On the witness stand yesterday morning, Mrs. Reuter, wife of the deceased, testified that in the five years of their married life her husband had never been under the influence of liquor.

A Large House.

The enterprising and mammoth firm of Dotter & Bradley have kept pace with the constantly growing demands of Los Angeles. Their stock is so diversified in its character that to attempt a detailed description of it would be useless. Suffice it to say that they now carry a stock of furniture, upholstered goods, carpets, oil cloths, matings, etc., which will equal in size many of the largest houses on the coast. They report that the recent reduction in freight rates enables them to compete with any San Francisco house for all the trade as far north as Bakersfield, and as far east as Tucson and they propose to fight for it too.

FIELD AND FOREST.

Los Angeles Sporting News—A Good Club in Working Order.

The Fishing Season Commenced—Superior Game Rights—Fish in Arizona—Truckee Trout, Etc.

The Los Angeles Sporting Club is inactive at present, owing to the hunting season having expired. Nothing is left but to shoot at the little white clouds of down on the posterior extremities of rabbits as they dance in and out of the chapparrel. It is proposed, however, to hold pigeon shooting matches in the immediate future, which will prevent enough action from the Club to evolve the accumulation of rust during the summer till the hunting season opens again, the middle of next September.

This Club has already done some good. About the first thing after its organization it had a man arrested and fined twenty-five dollars for trapping quail, and the fact of its existence undoubtedly holds many a pot hunter in check. The Club have a complete outfit for a hunting trip, and several enjoyable trips have been taken.

The fishing season opened with the first of the present month, and many local Isaak Waltons and members of the club are occupying the leisure and Sunday in exploring the mountain streams in this vicinity in pursuit of toothsome trout.

Nothing has been done in this country yet to introduce the trout from the Commissioners to stock the local streams. The fact is that all the streams are about as full now of trout and other fish as they can hold.

Archery and coursing are quiet in Los Angeles. Perhaps those interested have yet to get a better grip.

The first shipment of German carp made by the Fish Commissioners to Arizona has been received and consigned to Gus Williams, who will place them in his ponds near Charleston. They are strong and lively and will no doubt thrive.

The Solano Times says wild geese and ducks are playing the mischief with young grain in the vicinity of Suscol. They are ravens eaters and sometimes clear up eleven and twelve acres of growing grain in one night.

The County Commissioners of Walla Walla, W. T., have offered three contracts to the Fish Commissioners to stock the piece for the scalps of squirrels killed during February and March, and two cents a piece for those killed in April.
